Dear Diary, I'm tired. Tired of being second and second-guessing. Tired of being loyal to those who aren't loyal to me. When does a girl reach the point that she chooses to either become a woman scorned, or a woman of standards? I'm at that crossroads. This pain can't be all that my life consists of. I've got so much to offer the world, and I'm ready to give my all to my dreams like I have given my heart, my faith, my trust, to those who don't deserve it. I have no time for anything that ain't makin me no money or contributing to no forward movement. Time to boss up and be the woman I was raised to be. I was raised by the best in the streets, and refuse to taint their name with anymore of this foolishness. Hell world. Allow me to reintroduce myself. Zuri
