In the last installment of Incarcerating The Heart Of A Savage, relationships are tested and put through some of the toughest hardships but only the strong will survive. When it comes to loving a savage, you'll do whatever it takes to secure your spot in his life and his heart. You'll even kill or cross family just for love of your savage. Anything can happen in the twisted game called love especially when you're dealing with a savage. DeKari just found out that Knixia was not only responsible for killing his brother but she's also pregnant with his child. Which means Knixia is now forced to live her on time-clock but yet she still believes that she'll be able to change DeKari's mind in nine months, but what happens when he moves on and she's forced to do the same? Do she just give up and move on? Or do she tried fighting for her relationship and family? JoRielle's world was turned upside down when Zymoni found out that she was married and at this point, she's willing and determined to do anything to fix their relationship. But when she returns to town, she finds out that things have changed and are no longer the same. The last thing she expected to happens in her life ends up happening but that's not the only surprises life is planning to throw her way. Will JoRielle get up and run this time? Or will she stay and fight it out? After losing the first guy she's ever loved, Raqiah tries to move on with the second guy she's ever love but how can she do that when she can't stop thinking about the first one? Just as she was hit with a problem that she would glad take rid of, she finds herself facing the chance of losing her man or fighting for what's hers. But to get what she wants, she must play dirty as hell. Is Raqiah willing to do whatever it takes to keep her relationship? Or will she just walk away and accept her lost?
