Andy Warhol memorably said that "death can really make you look like a star," but death in itself is not a guarantee of the relevance of an artist. What is of crucial importance is the proper management structure for the posthumous preservation and development of an artist's estate. Wertenberger's business, Fine Art Partners, has advised artists and artists' estates for many years. Based on numerous international examples, the author explains the different alternatives for maintaining an artist's estate and makes recommendations on how best to handle work, archives and ephemera following the death of an artist.
