Part one of Mesmerized by a Street King was full of drama for the Moseley brothers as they each tried to get their personal lives under control and manage their empire. Zayne is delivered the shock of his life when Qwinae resurfaces and drops a bomb on him that changes his life and everything that matters the most. Unsure if he can take her words at face value or not he vows to quickly find out. Asahd finally gives in to his feelings and accepts that he's fell head over hills for Camille. Going against everything he stood for he opens his heart and welcome Camille into his world. But falling in love isn't an easy thing to do when you have women that's working hard to break your relationship apart. Meanwhile, Johan is finally seeing Tabitha's true colors and secrets are revealed. When Johan is faced with the truth he vows that somebody must pay for the pain tugging at his heart. Although he wanted to step out fully of the game he's forced to stay once a whirlwind of problems occur back to back. While the Moseley brothers are dealing with everything from the new beginnings to failing relationships they have enemies plotting to strip them of everything they've worked hard for. Will the brothers be able to get control of their personal lives and keep the streets under control? Will they end up having to choose between the streets and family? In the end of Camille and Kiera just might not be Mesmerized by a Street King anymore.
