From USA Today Best Selling Author Ali Parker As soon as I saw her, I knew I had to have her. I thought this Vegas fundraiser was going to be boring—another obligation to keep the family business alive. Wrong. I don't remember a damn thing about the night we spent together, other than how good she felt against me, like she was made for me. We woke up the next morning with more than we bargained for—wedding rings. Too bad I don't believe in true love. I'd feel bad about it, but she's got a strong opinion of me too. I'm a perpetual bachelor from her perspective. Fucking great. Crazy enough, this could work out for both of us. I need someone to keep my traditional Greek family from nagging me about settling down, and she could use some cash for reasons she doesn't want to share. I know a good deal when I see one. And if she wants to end up in my bed all over again, all the better.
