

Over twenty years ago, Kates dream came true. After years of struggling, she was finally pregnant after pioneering IVF. But the dream came at a cost. Neither Kate nor her husband, Dan, could have known the price that they would have to pay to fulfil their cherished wish of having their own family. Now, years later, their daughter Natalie is getting married and shes fulfilling her own dream of marrying her childhood sweetheart. Natalie knows she wont be like most brides in her wheelchair, but its the fact her father wont be there to walk her down the aisle that breaks her heart. Her siblings, Ollie, Beth and Jenny, gather around Natalie, but it isnt just their father who is missing from their lives as the secrets that have fractured the family rise to the surface, can they learn to forgive each other before its too late?
