Doctor December is my dad's best friend. As an orphan, he was named by the doctor that found him when he was left on front steps of the ER on Christmas Day. That doctor was my dad's dad. And five years after he found him a good home, he found him his best friend...my dad. Apparently everyone knows this older man's story...everyone except this younger woman. The first time I'm told it it brings a tear to my eye, but it's not the first time he's made me feel something deeply. He's been my ultimate male fantasy since I was old enough to have one. And when I visit his doctor's office, due to the juvenile behavior of a boy my own age, I see the way he looks deep into my eyes and how easily I get lost in his. And I know immediately I've found a real man...my man. But will my dad's best friend still be his best friend if he tells him about the plans he has for his best friend's daughter this May? Or will my dad cut this dashing doctor, or even both of us, out of his life forever even though that's exactly what I want with my dad's best friend...a life together forever. *Doctor December is an insta-everything standalone instalove romance with an HEA, no cheating, and no cliffhanger.
