Dice Harrison is a young self-made businesswoman. She has been successful in everything she does, but can she add wife of a kingpin to her resume? As her big wedding approaches, everything isn't what it seems to be. After the hassle of ensuring he was completely out of the drug trade, Chance isn't letting his bride to be get cold feet. He's determined to marry Dice and live happily ever after. However, with past secrets comes future plans that can be ruined. What will happen when Dice learns that her retired husband may not be retired after all? AiSee Harrison is the younger sister of Dice. By day, she is a pastry chef, but after work, she spends her time trying to escape an abusive relationship. When she is finally free, love is not on her agenda. She's careful not to land herself in the same situation when she meets Hyatt Brooks. Scared to love, but yearning deeply for companionship, Hyatt seems to take her mind elsewhere. However, her ex, Yeno, decides he's not letting go of what he thought they had. He makes it his life duty to come back for her in the worst kind of way. Will Yeno ruin the woman she has become, or will Hyatt save the day? Morocco Jefferson was a registered nurse who wasn't stopping her career at just that. Full of hustle and goals, Rocco was easily any man's dream. Montreal so happens to be smitten by her ways. He makes it his business to try and build something with her. One thing leads to another, and Rocco finds out unwanted news about Montreal. Not wanting to deal with it, she cuts him completely out of her life. With surprises arising, will they be able to weather it together when she needs him the most? Within this standalone novel, you'll dive into the lives of three women who come flawed and with a past of their own. The men who capture their hearts let it be known they're only concerned for the future they can build together. Leaving the past seems like the perfect thing to do, but when it travels full speed to wreak havoc, no one will be safe in the end.
