Phee knows that girls like her don't get the fairytale...Falling for a man like Bryant Holbrook is just begging for heartbreak. Rich boys don't look twice at waitresses from the fog, at least... not until now. One smart-mouthed taunt and his turquoise eyes are all over her. That cocky, bad boy grin tempting her with the impossible. It should have stayed a one-night stand. Now, it's too late. Phee is pulled into a world of danger and corruption where Bryant must put everything at risk to keep her safe, or risk losing her to keep his father's dream alive.
