Dragon Shifter series Storm, dragon prince of the Water tribe, has decided to take part in the Bride Hunt for the first time. Does he want a mate? Hell no! Simply put, he's bored, and the hunt sounds like a whole lot of fun. Also, he could do with a human to warm his bed. Once their allotted time is over, she needs to be on her way. He's far too young to be tied down. The female he wins is welcome to try and change his mind if she feels like it. Try being the operative word. Jolene is sick of human men. All they want is sex. None are interested in committing to anything long-term. At thirty-four she's done waiting for her dream man. She wants a husband and a family, and she wants them now. Thrilled doesn't come close to describing how happy she is when she's accepted into the shifter dating program. She's even more excited when she discovers the shifters are not wolves, as she first thought, but dragons. Who even knew dragon shifters existed? Finally, men who actually want to settle down. Men who aren't afraid of a woman who knows exactly what she wants. What a disappointment when the guy who wins her turns out to be an arrogant A-hole. It's all a game to him. He doesn't want commitment. What's worse is that she's stuck with him for the next couple of weeks. It sucks that she's a little attracted to him. Okay, okay, make that, a lot attracted to him. He might be an ass, but he's a gorgeous ass. Should she try and change his mind about not taking a mate? Forget it! She has better things to do. Chasing after a man isn't one of them. Should she make his life a living hell? That's more like it. Right now she's got nothing better to do anyway. Is there a chance of her falling in love with him while doing it? Dammit, but it's a distinct possibility. Contains hot alpha males and therefore strong sexual themes/language
