What happens when you're responsible for someone else's future? Or when you end up falling for them? Tessa Graham has loved Malus for years. They were once a wildly popular band, topping the charts and leaving broken hearts in their wake. But for the past five years, they've been playing the same old hits, incapable of creating anything new. As an assistant working for the band's record label, Tessa is given the opportunity of a lifetime. Her boss informs her that she must help the band write and record a new album—and she only has seven months to do it. If she succeeds, she's in line for a huge promotion. If she fails, she's fired. And so is the band. What starts out as a desire to keep her job, and perhaps learn a little about the four mysterious musicians she's always admired, quickly turns into more than anyone could have ever expected. As Tessa spends time with each man, she quickly learns that outward appearances aren't always what they seem. Tessa may hold the band's future in her hands...but there might be more at risk than her job. If she isn't careful, she could also lose her heart.
