She's Louisiana's finest, and she just moved in next door. Right when I was getting ready to leave this sh$t hole.OOWEEEEYYI could mop her up like a buttermilk biscuit.Love was the last thing on my mind.But just what this doctor needed.She's on a mission to fix up her old family house.And I know just how to use a hammer.Must've been fate that she'd fall off a ladder and land right on top of me. We were in lust the moment we touched.But Becca doesn't want "long-term."She's hiding scars and carrying baggage a mile long.And when her past shows up to haunt her, I'll prescribe just the right antidote.The woman I never wanted. A neighbor I could love forever.And the mother I knew she could be.Well, maybe I'll hang around for a bit.This is a full-length contemporary romance with a happily ever after.
