CONTINUE ►

From the experts at Audubon, a year of sweetly singing birds photographed nesting in their native habitats, opening beaks in song, perching on berry-bedecked branches, and showing off their plumage. Colorful, adorable, and a joy to hear or spot in nature, here are fluffy Warblers, chipper Carolina Chickadees, a pair of Cedar Waxwings, and a Black Crested Titmouse, mid-song and mid-flight. Captions provide common and scientific names. In a handy, fits-anywhere mini format, perfect for desks and lockers, and printed on FSCcertified paper.
