CONTINUE ►

When you're in the middle of a custody case, you want to do everything you can to get the outcome you want. The Law Guardian/Guardian ad litem (LG/GAL who is the attorney appointed by the court to represent your child or children) is probably the most important person in your case and is the key to winning. The judge is heavily swayed by what the LG/GAL recommends, so getting him or her on your side is the key to your case. This book fully explains the role of the LG/GAL as well as what to expect from home visits or other contact. It discusses mistakes to avoid, as well as what you should be telling the LG/GAL. Written by an attorney who worked as Law Guardian in five counties in New York, this contains all the secrets you need to know about working with and leveraging your relationship with your child's LG/GAL so that you can get the result you want in your custody case.
