Dating isn't easy when the infamous Harris Brothers not only play defence on the pitch, but block most loveinterests from getting too close to their sister. Hayden Clarke isn't the guy you take home to meet your parents. He's brooding, troubled, and just survived the darkest days of his life. Which is why a distraction like Vi could cost him everything. When Vi's bright, cheeky smile and oversized dog crash into him without warning, he can't help but get wrapped up in her. Despite his better judgement, he enlists Vi to help him with a special assignment that's anything but romantic. Through it all, she doesn't see his flaws. She doesn't see him as broken. She sees him as the man he's been fighting his whole life to be. But what happens when her strength becomes his weakness?
