I moved into the bad side of town. And it seems like two bad guys live next door to me...Moving into a shady neighborhood was scary to me. I expected the problems, but I didn't expect the two scary guys living across from me, or the animal need I quickly developed for them. With a crazy ex, a psychopath tracking my sister to kidnap her and her child, and money problems, I don't have time to think about myself. And yet... I can't help but become more and more attracted to them. Both of them want me, and I'm stuck in the middle. I can't choose either of them... should I take both? This is a full-length novel with an HEA. Over 60,000 words of pleasure! 18+ Only. Enjoy!
