Coverage: Paris City Street Map 1:12,500 Overview Map: 1:90,000 Metro Transit Map Dimensions: 4 x 9 folded, 9 x 36 unfolded, fits into shirt pocket or purse. STREETSMART PARIS is so legible you will instantly understand how the Champs-lyses connects with Champs de Mars, Hotel de Ville with Les Halles, Invalides with Ile de la Cit, Marais with Montparnasse, Sacre-Coeur with Sorbonne, and the Louvre with Luxembourg. From God's perspective to the most minute alleys our map will be a treasured companion during your stay. To experience the authentic Parisian spirit indulge in French food on the Left Bank, flaneuring and peoplewatching in the Latin Quarter along Blvd. St Germain de Pres. Savor the desserts at Caf de Flore and/or the cote de Boeuf for two served tableside at bistro Semilla. Every Sunday from 9 a.m. until 1:30 p.m., the air on Blvd. Raspail, between the Rue Cherche-Midi and Rue de Rennes, fills with the tantalizing smell of sauting onions. It is the onion galettes shredded onion, potato and cheese frying at one of the dozens of stands at the March Biologique Raspail. Then, turn a corner and new worlds unfold. Paris is unique in many ways: It became a global metropolis starting in 1853 when Emperor Napoleon III commissioned a radical new urban design by Baron Haussmann to reimagine, modernize and rebuild the city by creating the Grands Boulevards. These wide avenues cut through blighted medieval neighborhoods with huge investments in new infrastructure for water, sewerage and power. Paris's early adoption of gaslight street illumination earned it the moniker The City of Light - La Ville-Lumiere. Paris is the great city of the Flaneur. He is the aimless stroller who loses himself in the crowd and looks for unexpected experiences and encounters of the aesthetic and erotic kind. Benches on the boulevards are said to be evenly spaced to provide respite to encourage these encounters. The Situationists of the 1950s added psycho-geography, an exploration of urban environments that emphasizes playfulness and "drifting". Our map highlights the Grands Boulevards so you can immerse yourself and engage in Flaneurie. Here are highlights we love: Hiking les Berges, a 1.5 mile stretch river walkway along the Seine from Pont de l'Alma to Muse d'Orsay. Visiting both the Cartier Foundation and the Cartier-Bresson Foundation which are within walking distance on either side of the Montparnasse Cemetery. The former has cutting edge contemporary art while the latter specializes in photography. Spending an afternoon getting lost in the Pre Lachaise cemetery. Visiting the Fondation Louis Vuitton in the Bois de Boulogne to catch Being Modern: MoMA in Paris. Whatever your excursions our laminated pocket-sized map will make you travel with confidence and create lasting memories. STREETSMART PARIS includes a Central Paris Street Map which makes you feel you are there with 3D buildings illustrations as your compass. All Metro stops are marked by their respective line in context right on the main map and on a separate Metro Transit overview so you know both the local details and understand the larger system. STREETSMART PARIS maps are updated twice a year and are the most current.
